

Lighthouse Gala Benefit

Everyman, NW3 Thursday 19 The soon-to-released essay-movie A Bit Of Scarlet (pictured above) - a British version of The Celluloid Closet, focussing on soap-operas and St Trinian's rather than Hollywood - is getting a Gala Première in north London, with Stonewall civil rights group being the charity beneficiary (for tickets, ring the Everyman boxoffice on 0171-435 1525). The film is screened all through the following week, partnered each day by an appropriate helping of cinematic high camp titles include Carry On Cleo, Black Narcissus, and Antony Asquith's version of The Importance Of Being Earnest.
